Plié Meetings are used as incoming task tracking from team and a banks account, completed tasks are entered into a ledger book for incoming.

Fouetté Meetings are used to handle outgoing tasks to people from banked tasks. All Tasks allocated must be accounted for in a departments outgoing ledger book.

Double Entry Ledgers are expected for account tracking to ensure validity of a currency is being managed with full efficiency.

Small change is expected to be carried in a wallet of an employee at any time, checkups can supply opportunity to hand in tasks but a maximum of three tasks per wallet at any time is ideal.

Task Family Sum

Odd and even values are inherently derived from mathematical formulae as $2n+1$ and $3\sqrt{\text{time}}$, by using calculations to find language to describe total sums of a companies account a first glance must check for odd or even evaluation.

Either tally of tasks remaining or tally of currency generated in current dance of working.

Task Trinity

A department should keep books for direct exchange of task outbound in order to create a third account of personal team value upon currency generation has been conducted from their efforts.

Task Star

Currency generation requires accounts of tasks and currencies to be kept to track value of parts and total money being generated. Providing the company keeps track of language being used quality assurance of language tasks can validate against a quartet for direction navigation to facilitate expansion and breadth of expressiveness.
